

FG WILSON ENGINEERING (DUBLIN) LTD CORONAVIRUS (COVID-19) POSITION STATEMENT

FG Wilson Engineering (Dublin) Ltd. has Infectious Disease Guidelines and Business Continuity processes that are followed in pandemic situations and are designed to help ensure business continuity and employee safety.

We continue to actively monitor the COVID-19 situation globally, including adherence to advice provided by relevant health authorities in territory, and update our guidance as needed.

To the extent we become aware of situations where the COVID-19 pandemic will impact the support, products or services available to our customers, we will notify impacted customers as soon as practicable.

As a priority, we recognise the very important role we play in providing support to infrastructure critical to the operation of the state such as acute hospitals, medical facilities, state security forces, government builds, pharmaceutical plants, datacentres, media outlets etc.

We hold a comprehensive spare parts inventory of over €500k in our Dublin facility along with a €1.5m stock of new standby diesel generators, all available for site deployment at short notice. Furthermore, as the FG Wilson manufacturing facility is located on the island of Ireland in Larne, continuity of supply channels is robust.

We wish to assure all critical infrastructure clients that we at FG Wilson have the resources and personnel available to provide 24/7/365 onsite service support for all their standby power needs, both diesel generators and static UPS's.

If you need support or if we can assist with any enquiries you may have, please contact us on the relevant number below.
